Dear Joe

25X1

Enclosed are which I believe you will like. Please note that these would normally not be acceptable units as there are several fracture lines in these samples. Also the silver can get a dirty color as our rhodin solution is about shot & Paul didn't have time to make fresh.

Hope they are acceptable as far as operation is concerned. John check the silver are — & got a good picture, the lower left & right corners are chopped off however. — Have to catch mail so will close.

Regards

Ray
